Let's Get Connected

Champlain Beach, Baie-Comeau

N.S.C.A. The Beginning

In the early 1980's, two chapters of Alliance Québec were organized on the North Shore – one in the community of Baie-Comeau, the other in the communities of Sept-Iles and Port Cartier. As the Anglophone communities decreased in population, it became increasingly difficult to fulfill the constitutional requirements of chapter status. So in the early 1990's, Anglophones on the North Shore were represented in Alliance Québec through two community organizations.

In the late 1990's, with the creation of the Provisional Council to organize linguistic school boards in the east of the province, discussions began between a North Shore Steering Committee and the Committee for Anglophone Social Action (CASA) in the Gaspé. During the year 1999, four community animators were hired to research and survey their respective communities in order to compile a needs and services assessment.

On September 23rd, 2000 the North Shore Community Association was established at a founding meeting in Port Cartier. With nearly 60 people in attendance, the English-speaking population of the North Shore voted unanimously in favour of starting a Regional Association other than being a chapter of CASA. The steering had accomplished the first steps of what they set out to do.... NSCA now flies on its own. The Executive Committee held its first Executive Meeting on December 8th, 2000 in Baie-Comeau and the first Annual General Meeting was held on November 10th, 2001 in Port-Cartier.

All that holiday food must be worked off.

Now is the time to start on the right path.
Either try to improve or accept your fate.
Winning the lottery would be wonderful!

You have to be optimistic and open to change.
Each of us has hopes, desires, and dreams.
Amazing how fast the years go by.
Rest Assured that things can improve.

Hope to have good health and happiness, too.
Always appreciate your family and friends.
Start each day with a smile and a prayer.

Being in Time Square New Year's Eve I'd enjoy.
Everyone hopes this one's the best ever!
Give thanks for all you have to your God above.
Unbelievable it would be if war ceased to occur.
Never waste a minute of precious time on earth.

BCHS Spreads Their Christmas Spirit!

Christmas is a busy time of year at Baie-Comeau High School, a time where students and staff continue with their traditional events of spreading Christmas cheer and gracious acts of kindness.

The season started a week before the Christmas show, the Elementary students decided to participate in a project called "Toys for Tots". The project in collaboration with their morals and catholic religion class was focussed on displaying acts of kindness. Wanting to give back to their community, students from Kindergarten to Grade 6 decided to donate one of their toys for this needy cause. More than 50 toys were collected and given to a community organization, Ressources Familles Manicougan. The toys were greatly appreciated in which it will help to fill their toy club.

The following week more than 100 spectators came out to see the annual Christmas show bringing along with them non-perishable food to cover the admission. The collected non-perishables were later given to l'Accueil Marie-de l'Incarnation for distribution.

This year's theme "Christmas Party" was a presentation filled with many colourful characters and traditional x-mas music. Elementary students marvelled the audience with their Christmas classics while several secondary students played well known carols on the flute and xylophone. Finally the evening ended with a play presented by the secondary students. Overall it was a much appreciated and enjoyable evening for everyone.

Current event... the myths about de facto unions are still around! A recent survey conducted by the Chambre des notaires du Québec revealed that most couples in a de facto or common law union are ill-informed about their rights. Many think that after living together for several years, they can count on the same protections as married couples. But, this is false!

Joint property, rights in case of death, support... Éducaloi sets the record straight on the main myths surrounding the status of people in a de facto union, also called de facto spouses. Want to know more about marriage and de facto union or legal information on your rights and obligations; you can get more information by visiting www.educaloi.qc.ca

Info on Access to Health & Social Services

As clearly stated by the Ministry of Health & Social Services their definition of an English-speaking person is «An English-speaking person is one who, in his relations with an institution dispensing health or social services feels more comfortable in expressing his needs in the English language and receiving the services in that language»

The Quebec Health Act specifically states that English-speaking persons are entitled to receive health and social services in the English language and Section 348 of the Act requires that all Agencies develop a program of access to health and social services in the English language for the English-speaking population for its region. The program must take into account the organizational structure, human, material and financial resources of the institutions providing the service.

What is the purpose of an Access Program?

It is to ensure access of English-speaking persons to a range of health and social services that is provided in the English language by the institution, in their local area or region and if required in another region.

What are the objectives?

The access program aims to identify the health and social services needs of the English-speaking population of the region and to identify the health and social services requirements. To indicate the service providers (institutions) that is required to provide health and social services in the English language including identifying the means of access to services that are offered in English.

What institutions in the Administrative region (09) must accommodate the Access Program?

Le Centre de santé de la Basse Côte Nord
Le Centre hospitalier régional de Sept-Iles
Le CLSC et Centre de santé des Sept-Rivières
Le Centre de protection et de réadaptation de la Côte Nord
Le Centre de santé de l'Hématite

«Some establishments offer all services in English, whereas others may offer certain services only»

Remember we should request services in English as often as possible; otherwise our health establishments get the impression that offering a service in English is unnecessary!

Info-Santé Hotline Revamped

The Quebec government will be revamping its Info-Santé information service to a province-wide telephone number: 811

Similar to the 411 directory assistance or 911 emergency service, the 811 hotline will link callers with a nurse 24/7. The 811 service will replace the Info-Santé telephone number that is linked to community health clinics. Eventually, the service will expand to provide Info-médicament and Info-services for medication and mental issues.

The hotline is for anyone with concerns on health issues and accessible from any telephone. The 811 number is expected to be functioning in Montreal by March or April, the rest of the regions are to be hooked up by December.

Baie-Comeau CLC, a “Lego Block” process...first block, partnerships!

To establish a solid Community Learning Centre, one of the first steps is to put in place a local committee composed of diverse organizational representatives and individuals who play an active role, especially in the English Community. Through a collaborative approach, the committee determines the orientations, the priorities and the delivery of services needed for the implementation and the sustained development of the CLC. Sometimes it will act in an advisory fashion and at other times, through their organization and contacts, some members will set up activities in collaboration with the CLC. To reflect this double role, the committee is referred to as the Partnership Table.

Members forming the committee come from different backgrounds therefore bringing to the centre a wide variety of knowledge and experience which will surely benefit users of all ages. Some members are already long time collaborators involved with the school, known as “Friends of BCHS” while others bring new sources of collaboration. Various groups are involved, such as the youth represented by a member of the Student Council, as well as a retired English-speaking citizen interested in the development of the centre.

The Partnership Table is formed of the following members with the support of the School Principal Mr. Brian Rock and the undersigned:

Ms. MARY ELLEN BEAULIEU
Cégep de Baie-Comeau
Ms. HEATHER BOYLE

Mr. MARC DESLAURIERS

Like a good dish, the success of the Baie-Comeau CLC is based on the right ingredients, their appropriate amount and a well thought out process. A hand-full of belief and enthusiasm, a dash of creativity, a lump of partnerships, a zest of knowledge from the community's needs and a mountain of participation; we can anticipate a recipe bound for success!

It's Another New Year...

...but why do we celebrate on January 1st?

10...9...8... The lighted ball in New York's Times Square starts picking up speed. 7...6...5... It's almost time. 4...3...2... Everyone holds their breath for the last few seconds. We're about to jump that seemingly large but invisible gap that separates the years. 1...0... Happy New Year!

We made it. The old year, for better or worse, is gone for good. The new year has begun with fresh promise. Here's our chance to start again, to do it right this time, to have another shot at success...at glory...at just accomplishing what we resolve to. It's time to shed that baggage from the year long gone and celebrate what can be in the 365 untouched days to come.

Cegep de Sept-Iles News

by Sharon Coyle and Nathalie Ross

For the last two years, a group of students from the Cegep de Sept-Iles has been working with a group of students from Vanier College in Montreal on a "virtual" team-teaching project. This innovative and ambitious project was implemented in two of the humanities courses but may soon be used in a wide variety of disciplines. The college's IT department put together an impressive array of communications technology that opens up a whole new world of possibilities for both the staff and the students. Technology used included: Skype internet phone system, DecClic 2 (a learning platform to organize the class in an on-line environment), Plateforme Via (a visual conferencing system), Google documents and spreadsheets (a place where students can work together on the same document from anywhere they have internet access), iChat virtual window, Learning Objects (games and simulations that promote learning) such as SECRA 3, IAT, Tickle Tests, and Windows Movie Maker.

Sophie Jacmin, professor at Vanier College involved in the project, in an interview with Duane Cody and Kimberly Walsh, students at the Cegep de Sept-Iles.

Student reaction has been positive on every level. Professors have noted improved attendance and stronger participation and involvement in class activities. Students have also demonstrated an interest and enthusiasm not only for the interaction with the technologies, but with their peers in the big city as well. Our students are now confronted with big-city issues and are gaining a better understanding of the world as a whole in the process. [The] "world views course helps us to understand the way different cultures or generations see the world. ... It helps us understand the rest of the world by their thoughts and their visions of things....If we can understand [that]...the world could be far better than it is now," said Caroline Neveu, student at the Cegep de Sept-Iles.

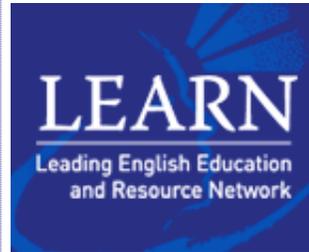

Last fall, students went on a road trip to Montreal and attended classes at Vanier for a day. And this winter, a group of students from Vanier are planning to make the long journey to Sept-Iles so we can show them what a great place we have here!

"When confronted with world views that are in conflict with my own, I start by being mad, honestly. Then I take a second to think and listen. I believe that when there is a conflict the best way is to calm down, then talk" - Zoé Godin-Talbot, student at the Cegep de Sept-Iles.

Let's hope that the powers that be are open to the idea! We certainly are...!

Homework help for students...

English students across Quebec now have another place to get help with their homework. The Online Tutorials and Homework Help is a free service offered to students in English schools.

LEARN, an educational foundation which is funded by the Quebec-Canada Entente for Minority Language Education to support English education in Quebec is offering online services three nights a week. Experienced teachers are online Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings to help students with homework and study. There is also general, elementary homework help. LEARN provides school boards with user names and passwords to distribute to students, who can then register for the service.

Flemming, in continuing with its tradition, held a special Remembrance Day. Many thanks are extended to our veteran, Mr. Keays and Master Corporal Cormier, Commanding Officer Goulet of the Naval Reserve, as well as Sergeant Victor Joly, CD (retired) for their participation. We would also like to congratulate Cycle 2-Y1 for their great performance (Rap song) and Cycle 1-Y1&2 for making such beautiful poppies.

Flemming has also decided to hold a monthly “Special Day” activity to recognize the last day of the month and encourage school spirit. At the end of November, our “little bees” all dressed in black and/or yellow on Color Day.

On December 13th, the Flemming Choir, for its 2nd consecutive year, sang at the Gustave Gauvreau Senior Citizens Home and entertained them with their favourite Xmas songs.

Our theme this year is the Gift of Giving, so the students and staff not only presented a Christmas show but also raised funds to help less fortunate children in the world through the charity organization, World Vision (www.world-vision.ca). To raise the funds, the students and staff worked on Christmas crafts and sold them that same evening. Our goal of $600.00 for World Vision (craft sale and donations) was surpassed ($990.00) and we are very proud to be able to help the world meet their basic needs.

The PPO did a wonderful job once again with their Raffle and have raised $3,520.00 to provide books for our classrooms and fund activities for the school children. We would also like to thank the teachers who provided baked goods as door prizes.

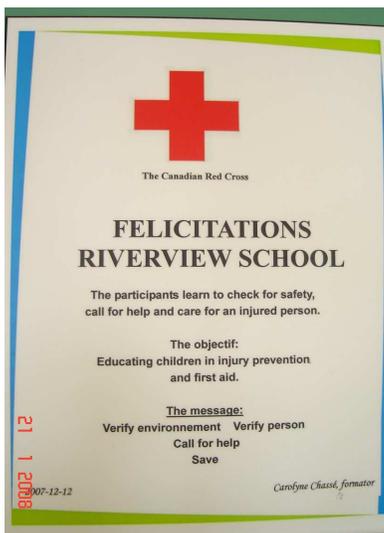

CPR Courses Free for Everyone at Riverview School

Riverview school offered a remarkable gift to their students last December. In fact, there were 29 students and a few teachers who followed the CPR course given by a First Aid monitor and volunteer, Carolyne Chassé.

Over a period of one week, the students between the ages of 4 and 16, had attended the course adapted at their level. The length of a lesson was between one hour and four hours depending on the age. They learned to verify if danger was present, how to ask for help and to who. Furthermore, they acquired the introduction on the way to give first aid.

The total cost of this project was around $300 for the registration. Material was bought to accompany the course, a document was provided in English, certificates and a commemorative plate.

The funds needed came from a government subsidy grant for improving the physical and cultural conditions of youth. In addition, Carolyne Chassé, official monitor for the Canadian Red Cross, shared her knowledge through her volunteered service.

Racism. Stop It!

What can you do to stop racism?

All Riverview students participated in an activity about racism. We learned what racism is and we all worked hard to come up with ideas on how to stop it. The High School students made a video for the National Video Contest and the Elementary students had a poster contest. We will only know at a later date if our High School students win the video contest. If they do win, their video will be presented on certain Canadian TV stations and other prizes will be awarded. For more information about the National Video Contest, you can visit this web site:

The posters were all great, but the best poster award went to Sarah Marchand, cycle three, year one. Congratulations Sarah!

Celebrating Seventy Years

Despite the chilly -20 degree temperatures, an impending snowstorm, and a broken water heating pipe two days before, parishioners and friends gathered at the Church of St. Andrew & St. George in Baie-Comeau on December 15th at what has now become the traditional Christmas carol sing-song and community potluck supper.

This year, the event was marked by three special events. First off, the service incorporated special prayers to commemorate and give thanks for 70 years of mission and ministry in the region and municipality. The first service ever held was in December 1937. It was noted that the church took less than a year to build, and even less to pay off its debt, thanks in large part to the Ontario Paper Company that donated most of the building supplies and labour.

Secondly, the Scouts, who have been actively associated with the church since the 1950s, presented the proceeds from their annual Christmas tree sales. The church is looking into using the funds from selling the 150 or so trees to help sponsor youth and family-oriented initiatives.

Thirdly, thanks to a deanery grant, the church is now able to sponsor a youth musical ensemble from Baie Comeau High School under the direction of Maria-Teresa Mastrocola (church organist and school music teacher). During the service, eight young musicians with recorders led the congregation in carol singing and played a couple of musical interludes. We were so grateful to have them since our organist took sick minutes before the service started; the young musicians seamlessly took up their role and performed flawlessly, leading the 45 people present in traditional carols. We look forward to future performances by the ensemble in the church and community.

Once again, our potluck supper was well-attended; the largest table was occupied by about 15 teens (not surprisingly they are always first in line for the main course and dessert!). It is a great opportunity for them to get together and catch up on each other's news. The supper also gave us an opportunity to hold a fundraising event. Raffling off six donated prizes from parishioners and friends, we raised $200 to donate to PWRDF's relief efforts in Bangladesh.

Many thanks must go out to all those who lent a hand in preparing the food, working in the kitchen and to Jody Lessard and Marilyn Durepos who festively decorated the hall.
